

Political Science

May Pyae

Submitted by Andrea B. Haupt

May Pyae is our outstanding student in Political Science and without doubt deserving of the honor of being chosen as this year's awardee. May has impressed us with her intellectual curiosity, hard work, and dedication to her assigned tasks. She has achieved perfect grades in her Political Science classes. There is no question that May will go far and will excel in any context, but for now, in 2025, she is the star student of our department.